Jalalabad State Medical University FMGE Result

Kyrgyzstan doesn't have an impeccable FMGE passing result from all of its universities but they still offer much promise. Not many Indian students who studied MBBS from Kyrgyzstan and then came back have passed the FMGE exam of 2015-18. Jalalabad State Medical University is one of the biggest universities of Kyrgyzstan and yet its passing percentage is not that great at all.

The passing percentage for the year 2015-18 stands at 5% when 50 students applied but only 2 passed. According to our analysis, any passing percentage that falls under 15-20% is not a good one. Which means that the university would not be favoured by Indian students in the future.

It is your life, make a wise decision. Being the top university, the passing percentage is low so you can still look for other universities in the country that offer MBBS if you really want to go to Kyrgyzstan.

Some of the universities with their adequate passing percentages are –

- Bukovinian State Medical University
- Vinnitsa National Medical University
