Study in Singapore

TOP UNIVERSITIES

There are 34 colleges and universities in Singapore for international students providing various courses across various disciplines, out of which 6 are public universities. Three of Singapore's universities are in the 2019 QS World University Rankings top 500. The highest-ranked is the National University of Singapore (NUS), which is placed at 11th. The next highest-ranked is the Nanyang Technological University, Singapore (NTU), which is placed at 12th

Here is a list of top 10 universities in Singapore:

- National University of Singapore (NUS)
- Nanyang Technological University
- Singapore Management University (SMU)
- Singapore University of Technology and Design
- Singapore MIT Alliance for Research and Technology
- SIM University
- National Institute of Education
- Singapore Institute of Technology
- Yale NUS College
- Ngee Ann Polytechnic

QUALIFICATIONS OFFERED

Universities in Singapore offer various kinds of degrees catering to every student's needs and interests. Students can study at any of the following levels to earn the following degrees.

Undergraduate Programmes

- Bachelor's Degree
- Bachelor's Degree (Honors)

Graduate Programmes

- Graduate Diploma
- Master's Degree
- Doctoral Degree

Universities offer various special undergraduate programs like a double degree, concurrent degree, double major, minor, joint degrees, and special degree programs. Combinations and programs on offer vary greatly from one university to the other.

Cost of Living in Singapore

Singapore uses the Singapore Dollar (SGD) as its currency.

Students' tuition fees will depend on where they choose to study, and at what level. For international students, there are many scholarships available. Some of these are offered by the Singapore Ministry of Education, as well as others offered by individual institutions. Public institutions will usually charge lower tuition fees than private institution